

Hemingway: FBI Weaponized 'Ludicrous' Collusion Hoax To Target Trump

April 13, 2022

"The most major meddling that we saw in the 2016 election was done by this Hillary Clinton secretly funded, secretly orchestrated operation to set a false narrative, one that continued throughout the Trump administration. That was this false narrative that Trump had colluded with Russia to steal the election. That was something her campaign secretly bought and paid for," Federalist Editor-in-Chief Mollie Hemingway said on Fox Business Network's "The Evening Edit."

"That caused so much damage in the 2016 election but throughout the entire administration of Trump. That was something that caused global problems, it caused domestic problems, and it was done by her campaign and the Democrat National Committee," Hemingway added.
